

Luis G Peña is a Mexican-American artist living and working in Austin, Texas. His work is a reflection of his strong sense of respect for the majesty of the animal kingdom and connection to his Mexican heritage. He has also worked as a calligrapher and you can see his delicate hand in the intricacy of his art.

“You can do this” is a phrase that has been repeated often to Luis. With encouragement from his peers and loving wife, he has embraced his passion for scratch art and found his unique perspective within the medium.
